

Ten Mile Point Block Watch

The Ten Mile Block Watch was formed in September, 1999. It covers an area from the west end of Tudor (2737) to 2801 Tudor. You will see our sign on the boulevard. Over the years the members have met to discuss issues that include home and property security, emergency preparedness and traffic calming. We also meet to have a yearly barbeque. As the members say, "The biggest advantage of this organization is getting to know our neighbours." Since the formation of the Block Watch there has been no house vandalism. This is consistent with the other Block Watch areas in Saanich. Block Watches are known to deter break-ins. The members are also linked into the Cadboro Bay Residents Association and the Saanich Emergency Preparedness organization.
